

Triveni Sangam

Triveni Sangam is the sacred confluence of the Ganga, Yamuna, and the mythical Saraswati rivers. It is one of the holiest pilgrimage sites in India, attracting millions of devotees for ritual bathing and spiritual experiences.

Hanuman Mandir

Hanuman Mandir, popularly known as Lete Hanuman Ji, is famous for its unique reclining idol of Lord Hanuman. Located near the Sangam, it holds great religious significance among devotees.

Allahabad Fort

Allahabad Fort, built by Emperor Akbar in the 16th century, is a historic landmark showcasing magnificent Mughal architecture. It stands on the banks of the Yamuna River and holds immense historical value.

Anand Bhawan

Anand Bhawan is a historic house museum that once served as the residence of the Nehru family. It offers insights into India's freedom movement and the life of Jawaharlal Nehru.